

CALIFORNIA DOCUMENTARY PROJECT NextGen Self-Evaluation

In addition to providing information on program outcomes, a CDP NextGen Final Report includes a Project Director Self-Evaluation. All narrative responses should be submitted online through the grantee portal: <https://ch-grants.smapply.io>.

EVALUATION NARRATIVE

Overview Assessment:

1. Please provide a brief overview assessment of the CDP NextGen program you designed and implemented. Did the program you implemented differ significantly from your proposed plan? If so, explain how and why changes were made.

Goals & Objectives:

2. List each of the goals and objectives you described in your original proposal and explain your progress towards achieving them.

Perspectives:

3. Please tell us why (or why not) you feel your project brings new and previously unheard youth perspectives to light and helps to reveal the breadth and range of California's cultures, peoples, and histories.

Contributions of Humanities Advisor(s):

4. Who were your Humanities Advisor(s) for this project (name, title, email address), what were their roles, and how would you assess their contributions to the project?
